Thank You!!!: Gertrude Hawk Candy Fundraisers -Thank you all who participated in the Christmas and Easter Gertrude Hawk Candy Fundraisers in support of my Fieldwork Project. We were able to raise half of the expedition expense needed to join the Bighorn Basin Paleontological Institute, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to paleontology and earth science research, education, and outreach, the first week of August. It is headquartered at Red Lodge, Montana. The Bighorn Basin is part of Yellowstone National Park of Montana and Wyoming. My group will focus on hunting and unearthing fossils in quarries and bone beds of the late Jurassic Morrison Formation, 150 million years old, and home of dozens of dinosaurs and other animals and plants. Donations are still being accepted in support of travel and supplies. Crew Members benefit from having a camp cook and on-site research lodge accommodations.
